To-Day's Game Decides the World's Base Ball Championship.

The Giants Score Their Sixth Victory Over the Browns.

Beautiful Weather, Good Grounds and a Fair Attend-

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, October 25. There was promise of an excellent crowd at Sportsman's Park to-day for the eighth game in the series for the world's championship. The St. Louis team won yesterday. Two of New York's players were injured, and everybody thought that St. Louis would win again to-day. Yet at 2:30 o'clock there was but a small collection present, say probably 1,000, and this too, in spite of the fact that play was announced to be called at 2:45, and the weather and condition of the grounds were a dream. It was announced early in the day that King would pitch in the contest to-day. It was the German pitcher's own request. There was promise of an excellent crowd that king would place in the contest to-day. It was the German pitcher's own request. He said that he thought he could win if permitted to face the Giants and the St. Louis management agreed to humor his whim. This was really not necessary, for Chamberlain, whose finger was badly burt in Philadelphis, had recovered. e matter was not, however, ely settled, and at the nute it was decided to put Chamber! instead of the white-headed twirler, who took balls and strikes, and Gaffney gave the decisions on the bases.

FIRST IRMING.

For New York, Tiernan struck a high ball, which Comiskey caught after much howling on the part of the St. Louis players. Ewing was the next man at bat and he struck at the second ball pitched. The bat struck the ball squarely in the nose and it went sailing out into the crowd on the bleaching boards at right field. It was caught on the fly by a spectator, who threw it to McCarthy and it was returned to the pitcher. The hit, however, according to rule, was a home run, and was so given. Richardson came next, and he flew out to O'Neill. After him was Ward, who hit a hot bounder along the base line past Comiskey, but he was thrown out at second base by Milligan. Thus the New Yorks had one run to their credit.

For St. Louis, Latham secured a base on balls. Robinson hit to Whitney who threw to first eatching his man, and then O'Rourke returned the ball to Whitney in time to catch Latham who attempted to reach third on the play. O'Neill followed with a fly to the field between second and right center, which Richardson gathered in in the most scientific way imaginable.

SECOND INVING.

SECOND INVING.

For New York, O'Rourke struck out; Gore flew out to Herr and Slattery also struck out.

For St. Louis, Comiskey hit a bounder over Keefe's head, but it was stopped and fleided safely by Ward with his left hand as cleverly as could be. McCarthy placed an easy one in the same territory and was put out by the same men, and Herr closed the inning by striking out.

who retired in that way.

FOURTH INSING.

For New York, O'Bonrke his to White, and was retired, and Gore was put out by Comiskey unassisted. Chamberiain tossed in a dropper to Siattery, who nailed it for two bases, and he scored on Whitney's hit, which went through Latham and White. Keefs was retired by Bobinson and Comiskey.

For St. Louis, Robinson struck out and was followed by O'Neill with an unpleasant bounder over second base. Comiskey hit to Ward, who ran to second in order to catch O'Neill but both men touched the base together and O'Neill was decided safe. A passed ball advanced both a base and O'Neill came home on McCarthy's sacrifice to Ward. On the McCarthy's sacrifice to Ward. For New York, Ward tried one of his one-by striking out.

For St. Louis, Latham flew out by Tiernan, Robinson was hit with a pitched ball, took his first base, and O'Neill followed him with a fly out to Tiernan. Comiskey closed the inning by hitting to Richardson.

ARVANCE INNING.

For New York, Latham's error proved to be the life of Siattery. Whitney flew out to Comiskey and a wild pitch broughs Slattery to second, but he was thrown out at third by Milligan. Keefe was given first on five balls, stole second, and on attempting to go to third on a wild pitch he was put out at that base.

For St. Louis, McCarthy hit safely to Ward, stole second, and got third on a passed ball. Herr struck out and was followed by White with the same result. McCarthy sopred on Milligan's safe hit to center and then Milligan ran down to second on a passed ball, where he was left by Chamberlain's fly-out to Isnoc, there was a greater air of activity there han previously witnessed since the opening of the Parnell Commission and a greater number also of spectators in court, including several persons of distinction. The proceedings altogether took a liveller turn. There was some admirable forensic fencing, lasting for two hours, between Webster and Russell, emphasising the fact that the Times possesses certain documents known to be forged. Another sensational includent was the production of the famous Phonix Park letter, a dirty piece of paper, yellow with age or exposure. For the first time Lewis and Russell saw this famous document. Each in turn handled it with loving care. Russell having held it at arm's length to the light to discover the watermark, he unquestionably gave

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMISSION.
NDON, October 25.—Counsel for the Times had a subpons served upon Mr. Thomas Power O'Connor to-day, summoning him to appear before the Parnell Commission. At the reassembling of the Parnell Commission on the relations between the Parnellites and the members of the American League, contended that the League originated in America and declared that it was a conspiracy hatched in America and effected by American money. Members of the League in America were dynamiters and advocates of murder and they had the Parnellites as a college; those paying direct taxes to the state nurder and they had the Parnellites as ac-complied. He denounced Finnerty, Redpath and Rossa as dynamiters, who had plotted for the viliainous forms of outrage. He said it was abourd to say that Parnell had no rela-

"It is to be deplored that the aucoessive would resolve itself into a vigilance commit-tion. Yet it stands as a matter of record that the Whitechapel Vigilance Committee has re-ceived almost no recognition from Gen. War-ren. Sir Charles also accuses the reporters, who have done more to solve the mystery of the crime than any one, with hampering his work. Sir Charles Warren makes compari-sons of the London with the French and conti-nental police, but utherly ignores Supt. Happily he did not commit himself by giving a testimonial which would be invaluable to Republican wire-pullers. The trick is too obvious and discreditable to have much effect.

The Prevalence of a Typhoid Fever Epidem ic in the City of Montreal.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATOR.

MONTREAL, Quebec. October 25.—Notwithstanding that great efforts are being made by the Montreal press to conceal the prevalence of a typhoid fever epidemic, the fact remains that out of 400 beds in the Hôtel Dieu 100 are filled with typhoid fever patients, and there is almost as large a percentage in Notre Dame and the other hospitals. On account of the alarming proportions of the epidemie, the Provincial Board of Health has taken the matter in hand, and yesterday began proceedings against several well-known physicians who have evaded the law requiring them to report all cases of fontagious disease coming nuder their notice. The dectors arrested so far are Drs. Guilliaume Roy, L. A. Demers, Frederick Barnes, F. X. Gammon and George Baril. Several more will be arrested to day.

A reporter called and interviewed yesterday ten leading physicians on the sanitary condition of the solty and the prevalence of the fever. None of them were analous to talk much on the subject until the reporter remarked that the apparent desire to conceal the true state of affairs gave colors to the alarming rumors. Finally, with one exception, all admitted that typhoid existed here in almost epidemic form, more especially in the east end of the city, which is inhabited mostly by French Canadians. It was the general opinion, too, that scarcely one-third of the cases were reported. How correct this supposition was will be known to-day when the arrested physicians will be brought into court. filled with typhoid fever patients, and there Kashville., Ill., October 25.—It is Palmer day here and everybody is shouting. After three days of rain and fog. Cleveland's luck prevailed, and a finer day has never been seen here. Early this morning cavairy came in from outside precincts and by 9:50, the time of Gen. Palmer's arrival, about 1,000 horsemen, eight, bands and 600 wagons had gathered at the depot to greet him. With Gen. Palmer same Hon. A. Welch and other distinguished Democrats. At 18:30 the procession was formed at the depot and proceeded to parade through town. The streets were so crowded that after reaching Main street everything became inextrically mixed up for a few minutes, until finally order was restored out of chaos. At 1:30 Gen. Palmer addressed an audience of over ten thousand paople at the Court-house. The enthusiasm was unbounded. The parade ecilipsed anything of a political nature ever attempted in this county, and the Republicans, who to-day have a raily at Mt. Vermon, with Oglesby as the orator of the day for the purpose of getting the Republicans away from this city to lessen the crowd, are extremely sore. Two Democrats, each nearly 8 years old, are in attendance here to-day. They had voted for Falmer when he ran and was elected Governor as a Republican and are going to again vote for the next Governor ever all Republicans who intend voting for Gen. Palmer. DISPOSED OF HIS FORTUNE.

Mr. Daniel Hand Gives $1,000,000 for the Education of Negroes. NEW HAVEN, Conn., October 25.—Daniel Hand, an aged and wealthy resident of Gust-Missionary Association of New York City the sum of $1,000,000 to be held in trust by the assum of $1,000,000 to be reld in trust by the association, and the interest to be devoted to the education of colored people in the old slave States of the South. The Association is to have unrestricted charge of the expenditure of the interest, except that it must be devoted to the education of such colored people as are needy and indigent, and such as by their health, strength and vigor of body and mind give indications of efficiency and energy in after life. Mr. Daniel Hand, the donor of this noble gift, was a grocer in Charleston, S. C., before the war, and being of Northern sentiments was forced to fly to the North when the war broke out, leaving all his property, of about $135,000, in charge of George W. Williams, his confidential clerk, and a Southerner. Mr. Williams used the property profitably during the war, and by investment in Southern pine lands became very rich. Six years ago Judge Luson Morris of New Haven, counsel for Mr. Hand, advised the latter to seek s settlecame to New Haven and honorably paid up the original sum and interest amounting to 8840,000, sending on the last installment two years are. This amount, with the accured in-terest, forms the great bulk of the sum now returned to the South by Mr. Hand. Under the terms of the trust not more than 3100 is to be expended for the education of any single col-ored person.

AT THE THEATERS.

The two performances of "Othello" by the Booth-Barrett company at the Olympic have been delightful surprises, even to the most ardent admirers of the distinguished artists. The production of "Othello" marks the highest attainment known in St. Louis in the plotorial illustration of Shakspearean tragedy. Mr. Albert, the scenic artist of Noxon, Albert & Toomsy of this city, has obtained an admirable result in depicting historically accurate scenes in Venice and Cyprus and rich and artistic interiors. The work of the stars was strong, Mr. Booth giving his own best lago, and Mr. Barrett developing a warmth and vigor in Othello, which were revealations of his power. Miss Gale, Mr. Lane, Miss Kellogg, Mr. Hanford and Mr. Rogers are doing excellent work,

To night Messrs. Booth and Barrett will appear in an elaborate production of "Merchant of Venice," in which the same antelligant effort to obtain accurate, rich and original effects and arrangement of scenes noticeable in "Othelio" has been exerted. The entire six acts will be given, Mr. Booth appearing as Shylock and Mr. Barrett as Basanlo, "Merchant of Venice" will run unfil Saturday night, when Hamlet will be the bill.

The Glants and the Browns visited the Grand lass evening on the invitation of Nat C. Goodwin and laughed over the trials of Golightiy and Caraway Bones.

with salt for this bity. On board the Fish, when she left East Harbor, besides the regular crew of ten men, were Filot Robert Clark and three passengers, J. J. Frith, a merchant at Grand Turk, his son Marshall, and a Mr. Kelly. The bark arrived off Grand Turk on the evening of September I last. During the night a gale arose and it was impossible to make the harbor in the morning. Then an ineffectual attempt was made to make Riding Turk, and finally the bark was headed through the South Channel, taking for three hours a south by west course. This only served to bring her almost directly in the path of a cyclone. Her topsails were blown away: then as the wind shifted to the north and blew at the rate of sixty miles an hour. The fore topsail and fore staysails were carried away, the cargo shifted to starboard and the vessel broached to. A new jib was holsted, but it blew into ribbons. The main topsail then blew out of the gaskets and was followed by every available sail except the mizeon staysail and the spanker.

An attempt was made to get the vessel's stern to the sea by means of a drag, and then to cut away the fore and main rigging. The effort was vain, for she heeled over still more, and the spans on the deek broke loose and battered out the bulwarks, while mountainous waves washed her decks. She was settling fast when suddenly the main deck was seen to waves and crackle, forced upward by the pressure of water and air between decks, and a second later she lurched to starboard and went down. The Captain was drawn by the suction, but he grapped a fragment of wreekage as he rose to the aurface. He saw Mate McCullum for a moment and a salior named Daniel Brown, who was clinging to a cheat, but who afterward let go and sank. The Captain managed to get on to a piece of the forward house. He was joined by Quinton Faul, seaman, and after drifting for two days and nights they were cast sabore at Goodshill, Turk's Island, a most rocky coast. NEW YORK, October 25.—The sinking of the Atlas Line's steamship Atlas Tuesday evenof the Jersey Central Line, was due almost entirely to some misunderstanding of the aignals between the captain and the engineer of the ferryboat. The general manager of the Jersey Central Line told a reporter yesterday that, as far as he could learn, the responsibility for the accident rests between the Central's captain and engineer. The matter has passed into the hands of the local steamboat inspectors, who will hold an investigation. Capt. Curtis of the Central submitted his official statement to them yesterday. He easy be gave several signals to back, but the ferryboat still went shead. His statement is sworm to by his assistant at the wheel. The engineer's report was also received by the inspectors. It is understood that his statement contradicts the captain in regard to the signals which he received. The work of raising the sunken Atlas has not yet been begun. The company places its loss at $200,000. It is likely that as soon as the official investigation is completed, the Atlas Line will commence soit against the Jersey Central. The wreck is sinking in the mud very rapidly and the smoke stack, which was visible at high water, could not be seen yesterday afternoon. It is marked by proper signals, but is still a very dangerous obstruction.

Mrs. Rufus J. Her large double house in Lucas place was thrown open from top to bottom for the reception of her gueste, and to her exquisite art furniture but little was added in the way of forsi decorations. Exquisite vases brought from foreign lands were filled with roses which filled the air with perfume, and in the fire-places were massed pure white chrysanthemums with their green foliage. In the dining room was an immense punch bowl filled with the delicious beverage, and ices and charlottes in dainty beasters were continuously passed to the guests, who filled the halls and library and long salou, at the upper and of which Mrs. Lackiand stood with the receiving party, hirs. Snyder, her sister-in-law from Boaton, and her nices, Miss Parker from the same place, the two ladies who were complimented by the enter tainment. Mis. Lackiand wore a striking and beautiful sollette of black gros grain and satin brocade, relieved by a Fedora vest of white gause, striped with silver and black, confined by revers of silver and black passementerie, The elbow sleeves were finished by puffs of the same gauze, which were met by her black gloves. In perfect harmony with these silver effects was her silvery heir, worn in a low classical knot, confined by a jewisel clasp, from which escaped a few short ouris.

W. H. English was placed in jall yesterday afternoon for embersing money from his employers, the St. Louis Steel Range Co., 1815 Franklin avenue. On Tuesday afternoon J. W. Musick, the president of the company, notified the detectives that English, who was their salesman and collector, had disappeared and was short in his accounts. Two delatestives were put on the case. After a day of investigation they found English at his boarding house on Eighteenth and Olive streets. He was confined to his bed, and the detectives thought he was seriously sick, so they reported that they would not take the responsibility of moving him. The case was therefore turned over to the Sheriff, who sent a deputy and an ambulance to the room and took English to jall. The statement Mr. Musick made to the detectives was that English had been employed by the Eange Co. since February of this year and that he had stolen money from the company W. H. He said: "I went to work for the company in February. I had to have something to do and they offered me $10 a week to clair too. I thought I could get along with that for a white as they promised me more after a month or two. In March Mr. Musick went to California and he told me that when he came back he would raise my salary. He came home about the let of July and I looked for a raise but he didn't say anything about it and I didn't. In August he told me that on the 28th of the month the capital stock of the company would be increased and he asked me if I would be satisfied with $100 a month. I told him yes, and then he asked if I could get along with $30 a month for a while, and I said yes and that is all I received. The capital stock was not raised and I didn't get any increase to $100. When Mr. Musick came back there was a shortage of $198. That was an honest mistake, and I don't know how it occurred. They told me that I is all paid except $50. Since then I have been taking money from them. I got one check out of the mail and had it cashed, and two others I got while I was collecting. I kept them from the company and cashed them, but most of the money I took out of each collection."

BOUNCE the bosses.

THESE are the days when the scratche is preparing to scratch.

THE earnest desire of the Hendricks Association to purify the registration lists is beautiful illustration of what is called spasmodic virtue.

EVIDENCE is increasing that this is not to be an election year in which voters can be bought and sold by boodle leaders or coerced by party bosses.

It looks very much as if the Tory crime hullaballoo against PARNELL will join the Republican free trade bugaboo against CLEVELAND, up Salt River.

IT is time enough to accuse a labor candidate of "selling out" when there is some evidence to support the charge. The mere fact that he was the nominee of a labor organization is not sufficient.

According to the well-known principle on which detectives act in catching thieves the Hendricks Association might be a valuable ally of Recorder Williams in finding illegal voters. We must insist, however, on limiting its value to this part of the business only.

PERHAPS it is a laudable desire on the part of the Democratic organs to restrict the field of Senator VEST'S permissions activity as much as possible, which leads them to neglect to publish his speeches. The little Senator's tongue and pen are ngerous as an old gun which is "not-

at the approaching election, but it is as paramount and commanding in imporance as the issue of economy and tariff eform in national politics. This issue involves the independence of the voter and his right to have a voice in the selection of the officials who shall administer the laws in his own city and State. It is needless to say that this right lies at the root of free American institu tions and good government. If the voters surrender it they become the tools of party leaders who manipulate them to suit their own corrupt purposes Here in St. Louis this right is denied to Democratic voters. A few party bosses placed in control of the party machine by the favor of Democratic office-holders named a ticket in secret caucus, elected delegates to the convention by force and fraud and then ran the ticket through the convention as the regular Democratic city ticket. The masses of honest Dem coratic voters had no voice in the selection of the ticket and if they vote for it they simply become the tools of the party

Having been defrauded of their rights at the primaries and in convention the question is plainly, whether honest Democrats will submit to the fraud, legalize it and make it a precedent for future operations of ambitious bosses, or whether they will defend their right and give the osses a valuable lesson by smashing the fradulent ticket.

PROTECTING THE BALLOT-BOX.

The fact that the Board of Revision has stricken over four thousand names from the registration lists and that Recorder WILLIAMS expects 1,000 more to be stricken off before the work of revision is over, shows that the 152 deputies at work are discovering a good deal of frandulent

It is well known that no board has ever ecceeded in thoroughly purging the lists. It is obvious that, in the time allowed, no board and no Recorder, with the force at their command, can thoroughly sift all the charges of false registration which each party can make against the other on the eve of an election. They have to guard as best they may against the frauds of both sides, and cannot devote themselves to the work of purifying the lists for the sole benefit of either party, as the Hendricks Association seems to require of them. When they have done their best there will still be plenty for both parties to do in the way of protecting the ballot-

Instead of trying to excel each other in ballot-box stuffing, both party organizations should prepare to substantiate their charges of fraud against each other. Each will have the support of a United States Supervisor of its own faith in every precinct, and wherever they have evidence sufficient to justify the erasure of a registered name they can challenge the vote and have the voter arrested and prosecuted. A vigorous inauguration of this kind of work would soon make the great body of illegal voters afraid to show lves in sight of the polls.

A BOLD CHALLENGE THOMAS L. JOHNSON, who has been nominated by the Democrats of Cleveand, O., to succeed MARTIN A. FORAN in Congress, is a grand-nephew of Vice-President RICHARD M. JOHNSON, and has made a brilliant record for himself. Going to work as a poor boy at the age of 18 in a Louisville street railway office he is the country is anxious to return to such a now, at the age of 84, a man of wealth, distinguished for his mechanical inventions, for his business ability and for integrity and engaging manners that have made him exceedingly popular wherever he is known.

In accepting a nomination on the Democratic platform of conservative tariff revision and agreeing to abide by it, he frankly tells the voters that he is frankly tells the voters that he is tain the condition which gives them lite? If himself a believer in the doctrines Mr. Blaine would seek to preserve them the of free trade, in spite of the evidence is clear that he is inclined to favor fact that he is a manufacturer of steel rails in Pennsylvania. Moreover, HENRY GEORGE indorses him as "a Democrat of Democrats, whose political creed is that of Jefferson, the natural equality and equal rights of all men, and who recognizes the complete emancipa-'tion of labor, the utter abolition of industrial slavery, as the true mission of Democracy, the real goal of the struggle that in this presidential campaign has been begun." The nomination of such a candidate in Reveland, the very headquarters of Stanlard Oil and trust protection, is a very bold challenge, and the result of such a ontest as young Johnson will make cannot fail to be one of the most interesting and suggestive incidents of the campaign.

The plea of the Messrs. Dissron that by illing their saws in foreign countries at permitted to charge more for the short Mills held that the redentia that are flocking than for the long hand, thus making some to our shores and crowding out home induscople pay too much for the less service in rder that others might have the greater service at a less price. No matter how profitable such discrimination might be to the railroad, it is forbidden as unjust to the public and against public policy. So it will be held that where protection enables our manufacturers to sell their products at home at a big profit, their charging an exhorbitant profit at home to recoup their losses on goods shipped abroad is not fair to our own people. It is taxing them to provide cheaper goods for foreigners, and a tariff which encourages or permits that sort of thing is as objection able as a charter permitting railroads to charge more for the short than the ong haul, or to carry freights for foreign ers cheaper than for our own people.

WHEN the Republican members of the Union Labor party found that the Democratic members were all going to support O'NELL, it was very natural for them to let Mr. Cooman know that they were inolined to take the other side of the tariff question and support Niedringhaus. There was nothing left for Mr. Coghlan to do as a protectionist but follow them. The fact is there is no room and no show for a third candidate for Congress in any listrict in this contest. The only alternative for him is to continue in the race in the interest of one of the other candidates. or withdraw in favor of one of them, and whichever course he takes somebody will say he was hired to take it.

THE New York WORLD has a corps of nterviewers at work pumping all classe voters in New York City as to their choice of candidates, national, State and city. The result of the first day's poll gave CLEVELAND a strong lead over HARRISON MILLER a lead over HILL, and HEWITT a plurality in the local fight. These returns indicate that the New York voters will take their politics mixed this time.

ets from the secret archieves of the prints to-day may come under the head of ancient history, but they show the working of the political machine when public business tors were entitled to the spoils. The lesson should not be lost. Civil-service reform may not have reached its ideal condition yet—in fact, it is a failure—but imagine the improve-ment which has been made since the days of ment which has been made since the days or 1860-70, when the hunt for political heretics went on in Washington City. The cruci, cold-blooded and heartless way in which men were kicked out of place for differing in opinion from the ruling powers was a disgrace to civilization. We doubt very much whether have fallen into the hands of the WORLD.

Trusts and Polities.

From the Providence Journal. Supposing that there are Democrats con-nected with Trusts. Is that any reason why a Democratic Administration should not seek to destroy, or at least weaken, the condition that makes them possible, when they are admitted to be disadvantageous, or is it any reason why Mr. Bisine should seek to mainevidence is clear that he is inclined to favor them, even if Democratic, and if Mr. Cleve-iand seeks to weaken them it would oppear to be clear that he attacks them as public nul-sances, as matter if some of his own party are hurt. In other words, Mr. Bisine is engaged in his usual work of excusing the most objec-tionable monopolies, and Mr. Cleveland is as carpest as ever in reforming such abuses.

which seems to have set in on the north end of the monumental reform. The Union Labor leaders, who are desirous of making the issue distinct, have lost patience with the management of the party affairs. They are badly mixed in the First Representative and Twenty-ninth Senatorial Districts. The Republicans, who are in the majority, have renominated Senator J. C. McGinnis. Some of the Democrats are in favor of Senator McGinnis and opposed to making a nomination against him or to the indoresment of Mr. Watson, the Union Labor nominee. The Republicans of the southern part of the city have also renominated Messrs. Paschall, Reber and Martin for the House of Representatives. The Union Labor party has nominated John Gladhill, John C. Scott and Max Stochr. The Democrats are negotiating Max Stochr. The Democrats are negotiating with the Union Labor leaders for a consolidation, while the Labor leaders are at the same time dickering with the Republicans. The Democrats propose to accept as their nominees Mesers. In the Second, Third and Fourth Districts the subcommittee of the Republican City Committee have decided to recommend the endorsement of the Republican comminess.

A meeting of the subcommittee was held at 8 o'clock this atternoon at the office of the Secretary of the Republican City Committee when the situation in the First District was discussed at length. The subcommittee expects to be able to report finally to the Central Committee to morrow.

If the Republicans carry their plans through there will be nothing left for the Democrats to do but to put up a ticket to be knocked down on election day. The Democrats proposed to use the offer to indorse the Union Labor nominess as a lever to secure places on the Labor licket for one of the nominess for Circuit Judge, for Mr. A. A. Paxson, Mr. Thos. M. Knapp, and for Mr. Phil. Rohan, If possible, though it was felt that the last named candidate was not so much in need of assistance. It appears now that the Republicans have out-witted the Democratic managers and will make the terms with the Union Labor party.

ANOTHER NOMINEE

"He can't deliver the goods." This is the general expression among the Union Labor men of Democratic tendencies and the strict party men on the withdrawal of Phil Coghian, party men on the withdrawal of Phil Coghlan, the Congressional nominee in the Eighth District, in favor of Mr. Niedringhaus. Last night meetings were held in various wards in the Eighth Congressional District tier, and it was decided to place another candidate in the deid, who will remain firm until after the election. leasures for the Relief of Destitute Fami-lies in Bamsey County. CHICAGO, October 25.—A number of promi-nent Jewish business men held a meeting last evening and made arrangements for the tem-porary relief of the Jewish families who are perishing from destitution in Dakota. A com-mittee was appointed to receive money and clothing and forward them at once to the sufferers. A dispatch from St. Paul says: A large quantity of provisions, clothing and a car load of coal was shipped to the destitute settlement from the twin cities yesterday, and ten ear loads of wood and more provisions will be sent to-day.

negro, had a set-to under the Twelfth street bridge at 5:30 this morning. According to the story of Donnelly he found Johnson un-der the bridge at that hour with a sack of story of Donnelly he found Johnson under the bridge at that hour with a sack of stolen coal in his possession. He says he placed the negro under arrest and the fellow made a desperate resistance. Donnelly drew his revolver and Johnson, he claims, attempted to wrest it from him. He also alleges that the negro struck him several blows over the head and that to saye his life he was compelled to shoot the man. He fired and the ball took effect in the negro just below the back. The patrol-wagon was summoned and Johnson was removed to the City Dispensary, where Dr. Steinmest mrobed for the ball, but could not find it. He was removed to the City Hospital. Johnson is married, is 35 years of age and resides at No. 912 North Twelfth street. It is not known how badly he is injured. The fact that he was shot in the back would indicate that Donnelly's story of shooting in self-defense was not correct, but that the negro was running away when he fired. Johnson is only accused of stealing a sack of coal, which is a misdemeanor, and if he cild not make any revisione, but merely attempted to run away when he saw he was detected, the private watchman is guilty of a felony in shooting at him. Donnelly took out a warrant for petit larreny against the negro.

oldiers put up two horses at Rindskop; & Schmidt's livery stable on Broadway and Trudeau street at 11 o'clock last night. Of-Trudeau street at 11 o'clock last night. Officers Gleselman and Fiesh suspected all was not right, and inquired of the soldiers what brought them to the city at such a late hour. The reply was that two soldiers had been killed at Jefferson Barracks, and they had been sent out to hunt the murderers. A telephone message was sent to the Carondelet Station asking if they knew anything concerning the soldiers and the horses they were riding, and a reply was received that the two horses in question had been stolen by the soldiers. On the way to the station one of the soldiers anade his escape, but the other was locked up. He gave the name of Clarence E. Lent. To wlat stupidity on the part of the officers the escape of one of the men is due the police fail to report.

he was booked for the Work-house. About ten days ago he was before the Court on charge of drunkenness, but was let off easily, and his friends sent him to the disters. Hospital. On being released from that institution he obtained about $5 in money due him, had a good suit of clothes, a watch and chain and other jeweiry, but he started immediately on the present spree, from which he will sober up in the Work-house. His money, jeweiry, etc., are gone. Abraham Levi was fined $10 for disturbing the peace by a tussle with Private Watchman Fitzgerald. He was also charged with carrying concealed weapons, as the officer said that he drew a knife, but this charge was dismissed.

HUGGED HIM HARD, Warren County Farmer Robbed in a Dive of $340.

Mr. Fubrer, from Warren County, came some days ago with $340. As he was on his way to the Union Depot to take a train for home he some days ago with $50. As he was on his way to the Union Depot to take a train for home he saw a wagon of coccanuts near the depot. He purchased six for 15 cents, intending to take them home to his children, but found he had no change to pay for them. Pulling out his roll of bills he paid for his purchases. Jack Woods, the peddler who had sold him the coccanuts, advised the old man to spend the night at his house. He said he had a very pretty wife to whom he wished to introduce Fuhrer. The farmer was pretty frunk and consented to go after he had asked if Mrs. Woods was a good church member and had been assured that aske was. Woods took him to a dive on Clark avenue and introduced one of the immates has his wife. The supposed husband left and the woman threw her arms about him. Then he was in an immoral house. He tried to coscape, but she insisted on clasping him closely. More women came in and they said he owed Mrs. Woods were steed on clasping him closely. More women came in and they said he owed Mrs. Woods gave him one convulsive hug and then fainted and rolled down stairs. Fuhrer placed his hands in his selecter and discovered he had been robbed of his $30. He informed some police officers whom he met outside, and the inmates of the place were searched but the money was not found. Jack Woods and Kittle Arnold, who played the part of Mrs. Woods were arrested. They had a partial hearing before Judge Nooman yesterday, and their case will be heard further on Friday. Both will probably be held for the Grand-jury.

on Mail Pouch for Chicago Bifled of CHICAGO, Ill., October 28.—The mail pouch which left Boston Tuesday and arrived in Chloago last evening, over the Michigan Southern Railroad, was robbed of all the first-class mall matter it contained. The stolen package consisted of registered letters, and money was secured by the thief. The rified pouch came to this city in charge of Railway Mail Clerk Stevenson, to whom it had been turned over at Cleveland. On reaching the Chicago Post-office he immediately reported the robbery to Inspector Kidder. The bag had been cut open, the thieftaking the package containing the first-class matter only, not molesting the fourth-class matter. This leads to the belief that the perpetrator of the robbery was some one connected with the postal service. The robbery is supposed to have been committed some time after leaving days ago, the choice of several methods of settlement. He concluded, instead of taking cash, to convert the assurance into a paid-up policy for S. 248. He now has nothing more to pay, and his heirs will receive in cash S21 for every $100 paid by him in premiums.

If the policy had been for a larger motunt, the results would have been correspondingly favorable.

I had many talks with prominent Democrats in New York City, and without exception they were very confident. The elements which cut down the Democratic majority below the Har-lem four years ago are no longer present, and a tremendous vote for Cleveland and Thurman will be piled up in the city. I came in contact with a great many Republicans who are prom-inent in the financial world and who have in with a great many Republicans who are prominent in the financial world and who have in years gone by given most valuable assistance to their party. These men were never noisy and the extent of their influence was only appreciated by those who knew what was going on inside of political circles. It would not be too much to say that the vote of New York has more than once been decided by them. To my surprise I found that many, if not most of them, were aiding the Democracy in the same unobtrusive but effectual way in which they have heretofore advanced the interests of the Republican party. It is a truism that capital is very timid. The great New York financiers are contented with the present condition of affairs and dread nothing so much as a change. The Democrats have long had to fight against this influence, and fully appreciate how important it is, as on more than one occasion it dealt a deathblow to their hopes. Now, however, it is enlisted on their side, and this element of strength was all that was required to make the State certain. Of course, enthusiastic Democrats are claiming the State by tremendous majorities, but the more conservative class, while considerably cutting down the figures set by the partisans, are equally confident of success.

By Telegraph to the Poer-Disparcia.

NEW YORK, October 25.—A late decision by Corporation Counsel Henry R. Beekman will exempt from taxation millions of dollars' worth of property in the upper part of the city. Under the Tweed regime yeat amounts of property were set apart for use as public raths. There was no neathlilly that the

of property were set apart for use as public parks. There was no possibility that the city would be able to buy the lands for years to come, but after they were designated for park purposes the owners escaped taxation. The Legislatures of 1574 and 1820 enacted that the lands should be exempt when "included within the lines of streets, avenues, roads, public squares or places." laid out upon any map filed by the Commissioners of Public Parks. The unconstitutionality of such acts has been urged from the declaration of the bill of rights that the burdens of faxation shall be equal.

Mrs. Sarah J. Lynch, mother-in-law of Candidate James J. Coogan, recently obtained a judgment against the city for cancellation of taxes aggregating $10,261.62 for the years 1885, 1886, 1887, on property within the proposed bounds of High Bridge Park. The matter came before Comprtoller Myers, who wrote to Mr. Beekman questioning whether the Legislature had the power to exempt such property, and proposing the Lynch judgment as the basis for a judicial decision to test the matter. The Corporation Counsel responded that the question of the wisdom of the Legislature is not open for consideration, that the statutes as they exist must be respected, and that any application to the court for leave to open the Lynch judgmnet for the purposes of a test question will be of no avail. The amount of property involved by the decision is variously estimated, but it is conceded to be worth more than $16,000,000.

Mrs. McLaughlin's Interview With Chief Grass and Sitting Bull.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. ing scene occurred at the Sherman House Monday afternoon just before the Sioux In-dians left. Mrs. Catherine McLaughlin of Galesburg, Ill., came to St. Paul a few days ago to await the return of the Indians. Mrs. She vainly hoped to obtain some information from some of the chiefs which might lead to its recovery. She particularly desired to question Sitting Bull, whom she regarded as directly responsible for her son's death. As Mrs. McLaughlin approached the hotel she caught sight of him, and though she had never seen him, she immediately identified him with the remark: "There he is; that is the man." She walked, however, directly to John Grass with the passionate appeal: "Where is my son?" Grass gazed at her in amazement. Her entry was sudden and her question was incomprehenable to him, both from its language and its import. She repeated her inquiry just as Interpreter Primeau came up. Her companion explained to him the object of her search. Grass could give her no information. She turned away and walked up to Sitting Bull with the same question, which was the appeal of a mother's heart. Sitting Bull understands no English and looked at her stolidly. She repeated the question, bursting into tears. Bull only shrugged his shoulders and walked over to another window and resumed his former attitude.

An Old Damage Suit Yet Undecide

The damage suit of Wm. Hill against Rober R. Scott, before Judge Valliant, ended in a mistrial this morning, the jury being unable to agree. The amount sued for is only $100. and the only thing remarkable about the case is the number of times it has been tried and the persistence of the plaintiff. The latter's the persistence of the plaintiff. The latter's property was damaged by a collision with a wagon of the defendant and the suit was first brought to the Oircuit Court on March 19, 1885, on an appeal from Justice Emil S. Giovanni. The appeal was sustained and in November, 1886, there was a jury trial with nine men, resulting in a nonsuit, with the costs against plaintiff. The motion to set aside the nonsuit was sustained, but a jury that sat the following May failed to agree. In November last there was another trial by jury, resulting in a verdict for plaintiff for 376, but a motion for a new trial was sustained in February, and now the jury cannot agree and Mr. Hill is still thirsting for satisfaction.
